

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

Nomination Deadline: Friday, May 1, 2020

Application Deadline: Friday, May 15, 2020

The Institute for Policy & Social Research is pleased to announce the IPSR Doctoral Research Fellows Program for the 2020-21 Academic Year. The program helps develop the next generation of KU interdisciplinary social science scholars by providing graduate students with training and support in interdisciplinary social science research and by creating a community of graduate students across the social sciences to support each other at KU and in the future.

Program Overview: Fellows will meet for approximately 10 sessions throughout the academic year to share research progress and experiences. Students will and gain professional skills and knowledge of interdisciplinary social science research methods and analysis. Regular attendance is expected, as active participation will strengthen the program.

Faculty Sponsor: Steven Maynard-Moody, Professor, School of Public Affairs & Administration, is the faculty sponsor.

Program Eligibility:

- ✓ KU Ph.D. student in social science or engaged in research with a social science perspective
- ✓ Engaged in research with an IPSR Faculty Affiliate
- ✓ Interested in interdisciplinary research
- ✓ Applying with permission of graduate advisor
- ✓ Must be on-campus during AY20-21 and available to attend 10 semi-monthly program sessions on Fridays 2:00-3:30.
- ✓ PhD students at all levels are welcome to apply, but participants will benefit most in their 2nd through 4th year of graduate study

Selection: A panel of current Doctoral Research Fellows will review application materials and recommend a cohort of 10 doctoral students for participation in the 2020-21 cohort. Nominees are scored on the strength of their statement of interest, CV, and nomination letter.

Nomination and Application Procedures: IPSR Faculty Affiliates who wish to nominate a student should email IPSR Fellows (ipsrfellows@ku.edu) a one-page letter of recommendation outlining the student's suitability for this interdisciplinary program by May 1, 2020. Please use "FELLOWS NOMINATION" as the subject line. This nomination letter is considered a part of the application and will be reviewed as part of the selection process.

Nominated students will be invited to submit an application due Friday, May 15. A link to the online application will be distributed to students following their nomination. To be considered, an application must include:

- ✓ Nomination Letter from an IPSR Faculty Affiliate limited to one page, received by May 1.
- ✓ Statement of Interest: Tell us about your research interests, discussing interests in the context of interdisciplinary research. Please include an overview of your interdisciplinary research experience/exposure and why interdisciplinary research is important to you. How will your research be different or improved through participation in the program? What unique perspective will you bring to the experience? (500 words maximum)
- ✓ CV (2-page limit)
- ✓ Permission from Graduate Advisor (if applicable): Required only if the nomination letter is provided by a faculty member other than the student's academic advisor. After receiving the completed application, IPSR will contact the nominee's advisor to confirm their support of the student's participation.

Support: IPSR Doctoral Research Fellows will have available to them the resources of IPSR for proposal and project planning, development, and research. Fellows may apply for up to $500 to support research expenses or travel associated with their research.

Additional Information: Contact Whitney Onasch, 607 Blake Hall, wonasch@ku.edu, or visit the IPSR Doctoral Research Fellows site for more information about the program, including a list of past fellows: <http://ipsr.dept.ku.edu/about/gradfellows/>